Call for Applications

Deadline for Application: December 1, 2024

The Botstiber Institute for Austrian-American Studies (BIAAS) and the Institute for Advanced Study at Central European University in Budapest (IAS CEU) are pleased to invite applications for a short-term Research Fellowship in Central European Histories and Societies for Winter 2025.

Fellowships are available for all scholarly work related to the past or present of Mitteleuropa (former Habsburg lands and adjacent territories) and linked to the doctoral dissertation research carried out by the Applicant. There are no disciplinary constraints; however, preference will be given to research proposals with a transnational or comparative aspect.

At IAS CEU, Fellows will join outstanding junior and senior scholars from around the world, each conducting research related to their diverse disciplinary interests. IAS CEU in Budapest provides a stimulating environment in which fellows can devote themselves to their research and share their work with peers through weekly seminars and other community programs. Fellows have access to all CEU facilities, including seminar and conference space, computer services, and library resources; accommodation is also provided as part of the fellowship at the CEU Residence Center in Budapest.

Eligibility & Terms and Conditions

- Applicants must be PhD students at CEU in the advanced stage of their dissertation work (i.e. those who have already passed their comprehensive exam). Doctoral students on write-up grants are not eligible to apply.

- Fellowships are available for either 1 or 2 months during the Winter 2025 term (between January 1 and March 31, 2025).
- Fellows receive a net monthly stipend of 1000 USD to help support their stay in Budapest. In addition, fellows receive housing at the CEU Residence Center (Budapest, Kerepesi út 87). Health insurance and relocation/travel costs are not covered by the Fellowship.
- The IAS-Botstiber Fellowship is a residential fellowship. Fellows must reside in Budapest during their fellowship, participate in the intellectual life of the Institute and pursue their research agenda.

How to apply?

The deadline for application is December 1, 2024.

All applications must be submitted through the following online application form:
