

KARL HALL

History Department
Central European University
Nádor u. 9
1051 Budapest
Hungary

Naphegy utca 13
1016 Budapest, Hungary
Office: +361 327 3000/2256
Cell phone: +3620 471 9399
hallk@ceu.edu

CURRENT POSITION: Associate professor of history, Central European University (2008–)

EDUCATION:

Harvard University
Ph.D., History of Science, June 1999.

Stanford University
B.S., Physics, 1989.
B.A., History, with honors, 1989.

PUBLICATIONS:

- “Multiple Loyalties: Hybrid Patent Regimes in the Habsburg Empire and its Successor States,” in Fashioning Global Patent Cultures: Diversity and Harmonization in Historical Perspective, Graeme Gooday and Steven Wilf, eds. (Cambridge University Press, 2020).
- “The Struggle over “the Social Function of Intellectual Work in the Economy of Nations”: Engineers, Patent Law, and Enterprise Inventions in Germany and their European Significance,” in ibid.
- “Creativity, Worker Consciousness, and Patent Reform in Russia and the Soviet Union,” in ibid.
- “Science and Russian Orthodox scholarship” (with Dimitri Bayuk), Isis 107 (2016): 573–578.
- “‘Racial traits are rooted deeper in the nature of the human organism’: The elusive race concept in imperial Russia,” in Key Concepts in Russian Imperial History [in Russian], eds. D. Sdvizkov, A. Miller, I. Schierle (Moscow, 2012).
- “Science and the periphery under Stalin: Physics in Ukraine,” in Physics and Politics: Research and Research Support in Twentieth Century Germany in International Perspective, eds. H. Trischler and M. Walker (Stuttgart, 2010), 197–226 (with P. Josephson, Yu. Ranyuk, I. Tsekhmistro).
- Co-editor (with Michael Gordin and Alexei Kojevnikov), Russian Science and Intelligentsia, Osiris 23 (2008).
- “Introduction: Intelligentsia science inside and outside Russia,” with Michael Gordin, Osiris 23 (2008): 1–19.
- “The schooling of Lev Landau: The European context of post-revolutionary Soviet theoretical physics,” Osiris 23 (2008): 230–259.

LANGUAGES:

English (native), Russian, German, Hungarian, Polish, Ukrainian, Czech, French, Turkish (exponentially diminishing competencies in this sequence).