Profile

Dr. Daniel R. Mekonnen is the Executive Director of the Eritrean Law Society (ELS). He is co-author of an award-winning book, The African Garrison State (2014), and a former Judge of the Central Provincial Court in Eritrea. Since November 2015, he is a Guest Writer at the “Writers in Exile Programme” of the Swiss-German PEN Centre (DSPZ), and maintains affiliation as a Senior Legal Advisor with the Oslo-based International Law and Policy Institute (ILPI). Between January 2010 and May 2012, Mekonnen has provided expert legal advice to Linklaters LLP, one of the world’s top ten law firms, headquartered in London. His role in this regard was instrumental in securing an international arbitral award of US$ 85.6 million. In October 2015, he also provided another expert legal advice in relation to a landmark Canadian court case on Corporate Social Responsibility, a partial judgement of which was delivered on 6 October 2016 and reported as Araya v. Nevsun Resources Ltd. 2016 BCSC 1856. He has a proven track record in academic publishing, with a particular emphasis on international human rights law and transitional justice. He has taught undergraduate and postgraduate courses at several European institutions of higher education. He has a doctoral degree (LLD) in Public International Law from the University of the Free State.
